FOREWORD

Before us are many doorways, doorways inviting us to enter and explore the future. As children, we could not successfully grasp and turn the door-knob. The door had to be opened by one who was taller and wiser. As teachers we shall be opening the doors for children and offering them the challenge of learning. We must guide them so that they too will have the ability to open and unlock the doors into the vast and widening horizons of knowledge and learning. The doors of the future must be opened, not only for personal benefit, but primarily for the benefit of those we are to teach.

DEDICATION

As the 1964-65 school year comes to an end, so does another chapter in the life of Mrs. Pauline Galvarro. In her many years at National, Mrs. Galvarro, better known to us as Mrs. "G", has served as educator, administrator and friend to all. During these years much of her time and effort was spent in the interest of National College of Education and its students. Not only was she interested in the academic achievements of the students, but was always ready to serve them in their personal and social needs.

As you pass through the doorways of National for the last time, Mrs. G., leaving your position as Dean of Students, walk with the knowledge that you will long be cherished in the hearts and minds of all those with whom you came in contact. Together we wish you a heartfelt farewell in the hope that happiness will always be yours.

To you, Mrs. G., we dedicate this book.

RECOGNITION

You, N.C.E.'s Children's School, deserve the thanks of all the college students—past, present, and future—who have watched you progress. Your children provide contacts with pre-school, elementary, and junior high students from our freshman observations to our all-day student teaching. We have learned much from the experiences you have provided. Through your doorways, we have entered a realm of learning whose gate swings outward into our future profession.

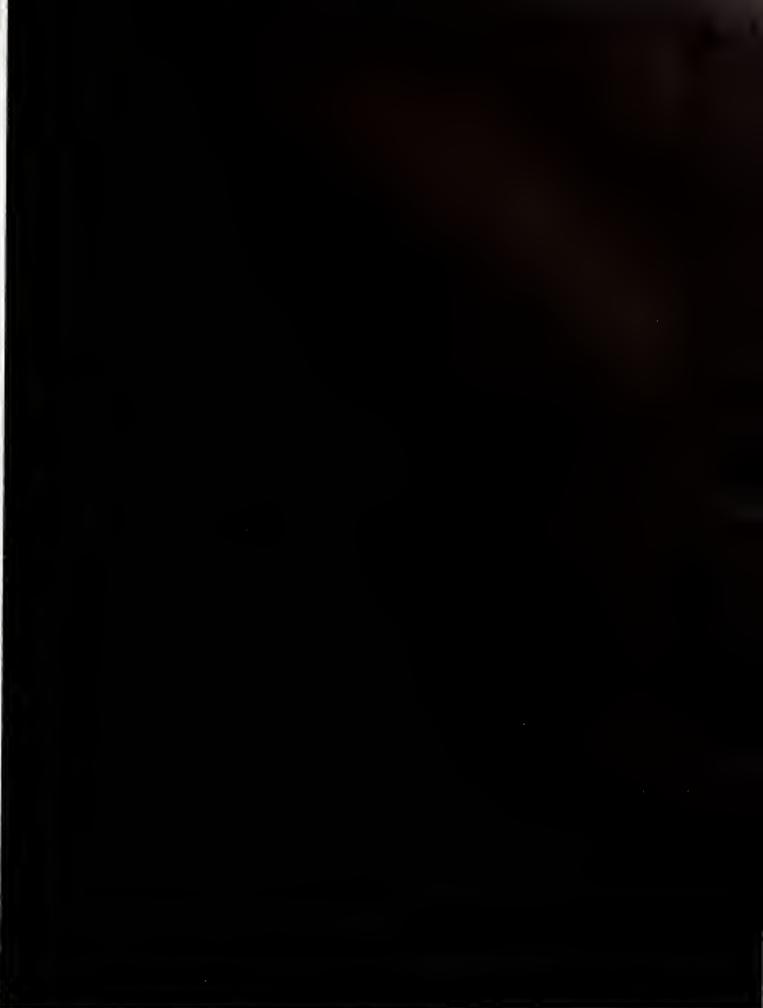

Dear Students,

As we near the end of the 79th year of National College of Education we realize that we are about to move into a decade of exciting growth for our college not only in physical plant but in curriculum as well. In the announcing of our plans for an enrollment for the next ten years that will more than double the number we have today, we realize, all too well, what this will mean by way of new buildings. In the architectural planning all of the problems have been taken into consideration. With the new curriculum that will come with the new buildings, National will have a program that will have its emphasis on preparation not only for those going into elementary teaching but also for those desiring a general liberal arts education. With the offering of the B.A. degree and the seven areas of major concentration in the new curriculum the professional world will see a new emphasis on teacher preparation that our faculty feels is vital in the world today.

From its early beginning National has placed great stress on the liberal arts. We have always been a liberal arts college even though the degree was a professional one and we were uni-purpose in nature. We are now broadening that base through the new program. N.C.E. today, as it has been through these 79 years, is concerned with a "complete" education for each individual. Those who have the privilege of receiving a college education must have experiences that will strengthen their own values as well as help build for a philosophy of life that has meaning. We live in a world where peoples and cultures are often different from those we have known and understood, and with the technological advances in all areas, this planet has been made smaller and the inhabitants drawn closer. The problems facing mankind and the world are reflected in the academic disciplines of a college education and in the new curriculum of National. Seniors graduating in June will not be a part of this program. They, however, have benefited from the research and planning of past years. Those undergraduates who will be a part of the new curriculum will have the satisfaction of launching the program. Through the years N.C.E. has been concerned with what is best for each individual. Here again is further evidence of the College's concern for the important role it plays in a free society.

CLASS OF 1968

In September we entered National as "Pea-Green" freshmen, not knowing what to expect. With the aid of the faculty and upper-classmen we soon found ourselves conforming to the standards of college life.

As our freshman year drew to a close, we had a deeper understanding and an increased knowledge of the teaching profession.

CLASS OF 1967

The sophomores, sometimes referred to as "Wise Fools," are led this year by Ilse Economou, president, and Mr. Greising, class sponsor. Every day they are learning and experiencing something new.

In early October they hosted the Sophomore Sadie Hawkins mixer which was held in the school gym. In late fall they were busy bees preparing the all-school directory. They are even more vivacious than last year and will prove to be an integral part of our future.

CLASS OF 1966

Step through this doorway and join the class of '66. Under the responsible leadership of their class sponsor, Dr. Claus, and class president, Sue Graf, the juniors planned many money-making projects and "just fun" activities for the year. As in the tradition, the juniors sponsored the Junior-Senior Luncheon.

Look through these doorways a while longer and enjoy the many bright personalities that belong to the greatest junior class ever—the class of 1966.

COLLEGE COUNCIL

COLLEGE COUNCIL

This year the College Council is led by Linda Fisher, president, and Jonni Nakamura, vice-president. The council is composed of members from each class, presidents of the classes, and presidents of the various clubs and organizations.

The council opens doors to discussion on various activities that include the entire school as well as discussing and acting upon any problems that might arise.

D. Muccianti, treasurer; L. Fisher; J. Nakamura; J. Ward; G. Polovina, president; Dr. Reese, sponsor; B. Pearson, secretary (Top to Bottom)

KAPPA DELTA PI

Through these doorways passes National's chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, Theta Eta, which is dedicated to the development and preservation of high professional, intellectual, and personal standards in individual preparation for work and which recognizes outstanding contributions to education. Members are invited to join their junior, senior, or graduate year. They must display high scholastic ability, worthy educational ideals and fine personal characteristics.

TEACHER AMBASSADORS

Trying to make new students feel welcome is the job of the Teacher Ambassadors. They act as hosts or hostesses to new and prospective students of N.C.E. The group also conducted several panel discussions at a number of high schools, where they informed those interested in the teaching profession of National's program.

Led by Jan Borneman, president, and Mr. Christensen and Miss Ward, faculty sponsors, the Ambassadors had a successful year.

A. C. E.

The Association for Childhood Education has an active branch at National College of Education, sponsored by Miss Agnes Adams. Its purpose is to evaluate and exchange ideas about methods of teaching. It also strives to maintain interest in affairs outside the educational profession. A.C.E. fulfills its purpose by holding informative monthly meetings which feature excellent speakers. Members of A.C.E. give valuable service to the community by caring for children at the Cradle.

D. Houghton, head waitress; K. McGovern, treasurer; L. Lotti, vice-president; D. Horvath, asst. social chairman; M. Meyer, president; S. McLean, publicity chairman; E. Santucci, secretary; Mrs. Davlin, house mother; Mrs. Curtis, house mother (Top to Bottom)

DORM ASSOCIATION

The dormitory association is the governing body of the dorm and is carefully supervised by the housemothers, Mrs. Davlin and Mrs. Curtis. Mary Meyer, this year's dorm president, has everyone busy with many new and different activities. She has succeeded in achieving her goal of unity among the classes. As you enter the doors of the dorm, you see many of the happy residents who work hand in hand with the elected officers and who are proud to be living here.

TOWN ASSOCIATION

The Town Association is an organization for all National students not living in the dormitory. Through this organization the commuting students are able to become better acquainted and work together with the girls in the dorm.

In October the Town Association joined the dormitory for a Hootnanny. They also had a Big-Little Sis picnic and a bowling party along with their traditional Christmas party and spring family dinner.

NATIONAL

In future years memory's door will be opened as we flip through the pages of NATIONAL and recall to mind the happenings of our years at N.C.E. NATIONAL offers us a chance to glance at the past and recapture the memorable experiences that make our present life profitable.

M. Masek, feature editor; C. Thompson, business manager; E. Economou; L. Teare, news editor; C. Hess; L. Maas, editor; L. Fisher; P. Street; S. Smith; B. Cohen; K. Byers; V. Johnson; B. Lublin, photography editor; J. Lueza; E. Lerner; Mrs. Zinn, advisor; A. Morigaki, art editor; S. Kurzer; M. Siegel (Top to Bottom) Not pictured: Lynn Platovsky, asst. editor.

CHAFF

Chaff, the college newspaper, headed this year by Lynn Maas, keeps the doors of communication open. Through its pages students are informed about activities and are given an opportunity to express their views.

P. Stavrakas; K. Roock; C. Brink; L. Siaumau; E. Yoshina; I. Economou; A. Morigaki; C. Bragado; C. Young; Miss Neumann, sponsor; S. McLean, president; J. Lueza; J. Davies; M. May; M. Nada. top to bottom

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

The International Club represents students of both hemispheres, who join together to exchange experiences of their homelands.

Club meetings were made interesting by the students' willingness to exchange accounts of experiences in their native countries through lectures, panel discussions, and parties.

B. Reeves; S. Hogue; M. Siegel; J. Bernstein; A. Pelt, president; S. Graf; J. Jacobsen; A. Morigaki; E. Mitz; C. Brink; G. Nicolopoulos; V. Englert, tutoring chairman; H. Dobrski; E. Lerner; B. Moss, I.C.H.R. representative; C. Groves

HUMAN RELATIONS CLUB

Better understanding of all the peoples of the world, regardless of their race, color, or creed is the major objective of the Human Relations Club at N.C.E. With Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Neulist as advisers, the club programs deal with the political, religious and social issues of the world.

B. Atkins; D. Plotkin; P. Baker, president; D. McArthur; S. Schaeffer; V. Meidman; J. Cody; T. Sugges. (top to bottom)

MEN'S CLUB

The newly formed Men's Club consists of all of National's male population who like to have fun. Variety is the key word for this club and their activities prove this. They get together for sports like football, volleyball, basketball, and baseball; they have parties; they have discussions. Most important of all though, they have fun just being together.

FOLK MUSIC CLUB

The Folk Music Club, formed in 1964, is a big success. Under the leadership of George Mark and Victor Meidman, the club has put on benefits in the Chicago area. The aim of the club is to bring pleasure and enjoyment to people in and out of school.

E. Aronowitz; B. Cohen; S. Davis; J. Cody; D. McArthur; J. Bobik; V. Meidman, president; S. Gordon; J. Bernstein; D. Horvath (Top to Bottom)

CHOIR

As future teachers, it is important that students become well acquainted with contemporary and classical musical masterpieces, as well as musical theory. National's College Choir is helping to fulfill their obligation to the college by diligently working on several performances. This year, the choir presented a concert for the annual Christmas assembly, as well as performing the renowned Handel's MESSIAH at the Wilmette Methodist Church. The choir also makes a contribution to the graduation ceremonies, by singing a few select numbers. In the spring of the year, the choir presented "The Seasons," by Haydn. The choir has had a busy schedule this year, and has skillfully performed many concerts at organizations in the area. The choir is under the direction of Mr. Lloyd Cousins, and is headed by its president, Charlene Seeley.

J. Wojnicki; C. Tauckus; V. Meidman; B. Cohen; J. Cody, president; D. Horvath; D. McArthur; D. Henderson; Dr. Kidder, sponsor; M. Moore, vice president; M. Fleisher; H. Dobrski; V. Kelman; T. Pearson. (top to bottom)

DRAMA CLUB

Through Drama Club, National students have the opportunity to grow in their creative and self-expressive abilities. Experiments with impromptu scenes, lighting, make-up, and staging demonstrations are the agenda for the monthly club meetings. These meetings serve as the foundation for all club activities. Then the members put to use what they have learned, by presenting the children's play, and the spring play. Drama Club also sponsors the class One Act Plays, and helps to plan other dramatic activities throughout the year.

DANCE GROUP

One—Two—Three—Oh! Strained muscles, tired legs, but great fun are offered to those who enter the door to Sybil Shearer's dance group. Dance isn't all work, for it creates growth in culture and emotional expression. All of the work and fun create a combination of poise, grace, and rhythm through movement.

W. A. A.

Women's Athletic Association, under the direction of Mr. Hardy, is a club that provides physically stimulating activities that promote fitness. Vigorous, fun-full activities contribute to the development of strength, endurance, co-ordination, agility, flexibility of the body, and mental health. Games and tournaments give opportunity not only for spirited competition but also for sociability.

M. Oberman; G. Dorsey; Miss M. Hunter, sponsor; I. Economou; P. Snyder.

M. E. N. C.

Music Educators' National Conference, a national organization, opens doors to concerts, operas, plays, and ballets. Their love for music unites the club in their development of talent and in their search for musical knowledge. Sponsored by Miss Hunter, the student chapter consists of those who would like to teach music, who display a talent in music, or who have an interest in listening to music.

COLLEGE COUNCIL INSTALLATION

This all-school assembly was opened by President Johnson, who stated the historical significance, importance, and duties of the College Council. He introduced the newly elected members, and with the assistance of Dean Galvarro, Dr. Johnson introduced the officers of the Council, who responded with short acceptance speeches. Before the ceremony the members had been given the college flower, a red carnation.

In conclusion the entire student body sang the "Alma Mater."

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION

The doorway to the future was opened to the freshmen during the week of September 13 by freshman orientation. During this time they learned the basic college routine and became acquainted with one another.

CLUB CIRCUS

Each year members of the clubs conduct an assembly to acquaint new students with the activities available to them. This year's assembly was centered around a circus theme, with Linda Fisher, College Council President, officiating as ring master. In this way the students can see how their extra-curricular interests are being met by the college. They can more fully understand the function of our clubs and can more readily decide of which clubs they would like to be members.

CHILDREN'S PLAY

The annual children's play presented this year was "Many Moons." Dr. Robert Kidder directed the play and was assisted by Marilyn Moore, student director. Credit must be given not only to the directors and actors, but also to the crew behind the scene.

The play was a great success, and the doors of thanks must be opened to all who put on the entertaining production.

HOOTNANNY

On November 19 the dormitory held its annual Hootnanny for both town and dorm students. Skits were presented by the junior and sophomore classes, the faculty and the men's club. Following the skits there was Hootnanny type folk singing led by Victor Meidman and Dick McArthur. Preceding the program a buffet supper was held in the dining room.

THANKSGIVING

This year National again displayed its spirit of giving by collecting canned goods, staples and other necessities for the Mary Crane Nursery School. Through this traditional activity the students try to show their appreciation for what they have by sharing with those who are less fortunate.

CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS TRADITIONS AT NATIONAL

Christmas began at National with the traditional tree-trimming party held in Student Center. This year the ornaments were tiny boxes, all wrapped in gay Christmas colors. The Christmas assembly was held on December 15. During this assembly the student body took part in a gift processional. These gifts of toys and clothing were for the children at Mary Crane Nursery School and the Abraham Lincoln Center. After the processional the college choir performed three numbers from Benjamin Britten's Ceremony of Carols under the direction of Mr. Lloyd Cousins. The festivities were climaxed on Friday, December 18, by the senior morning processional at dawn through the dormitory halls and the annual yuletide tale read by Miss Wren Staley.

JANUARY GRADUATES

On January 31, 1965, fifty-six students received their Bachelor of Education Degree. The degrees and honor awards were presented by Dr. Johnson.

The speaker for the event was the renowned Joseph Sittler, whose speech was entitled, "Knowledge and Liberation." Dr. Sittler is a professor at the Divinity School at the University of Chicago. He is the author of four books, a member of the American Theological Society, and has previously served as Chapel Preacher for several well-known universities.

His speech was the final message to the graduates as they passed through the doorways of Harrison Hall and stepped into their future as teachers.

NEW STUDENTS

Each semester the enrollment at National increases. Each semester a greater number of students realize the future National's doorways open to them.

This year the students who entered the second semester were formally welcomed at the New Student Tea on February 7. Here they had a chance to meet and talk to some of the professors and administrators. Students were also on hand to answer questions and head tours of the school.

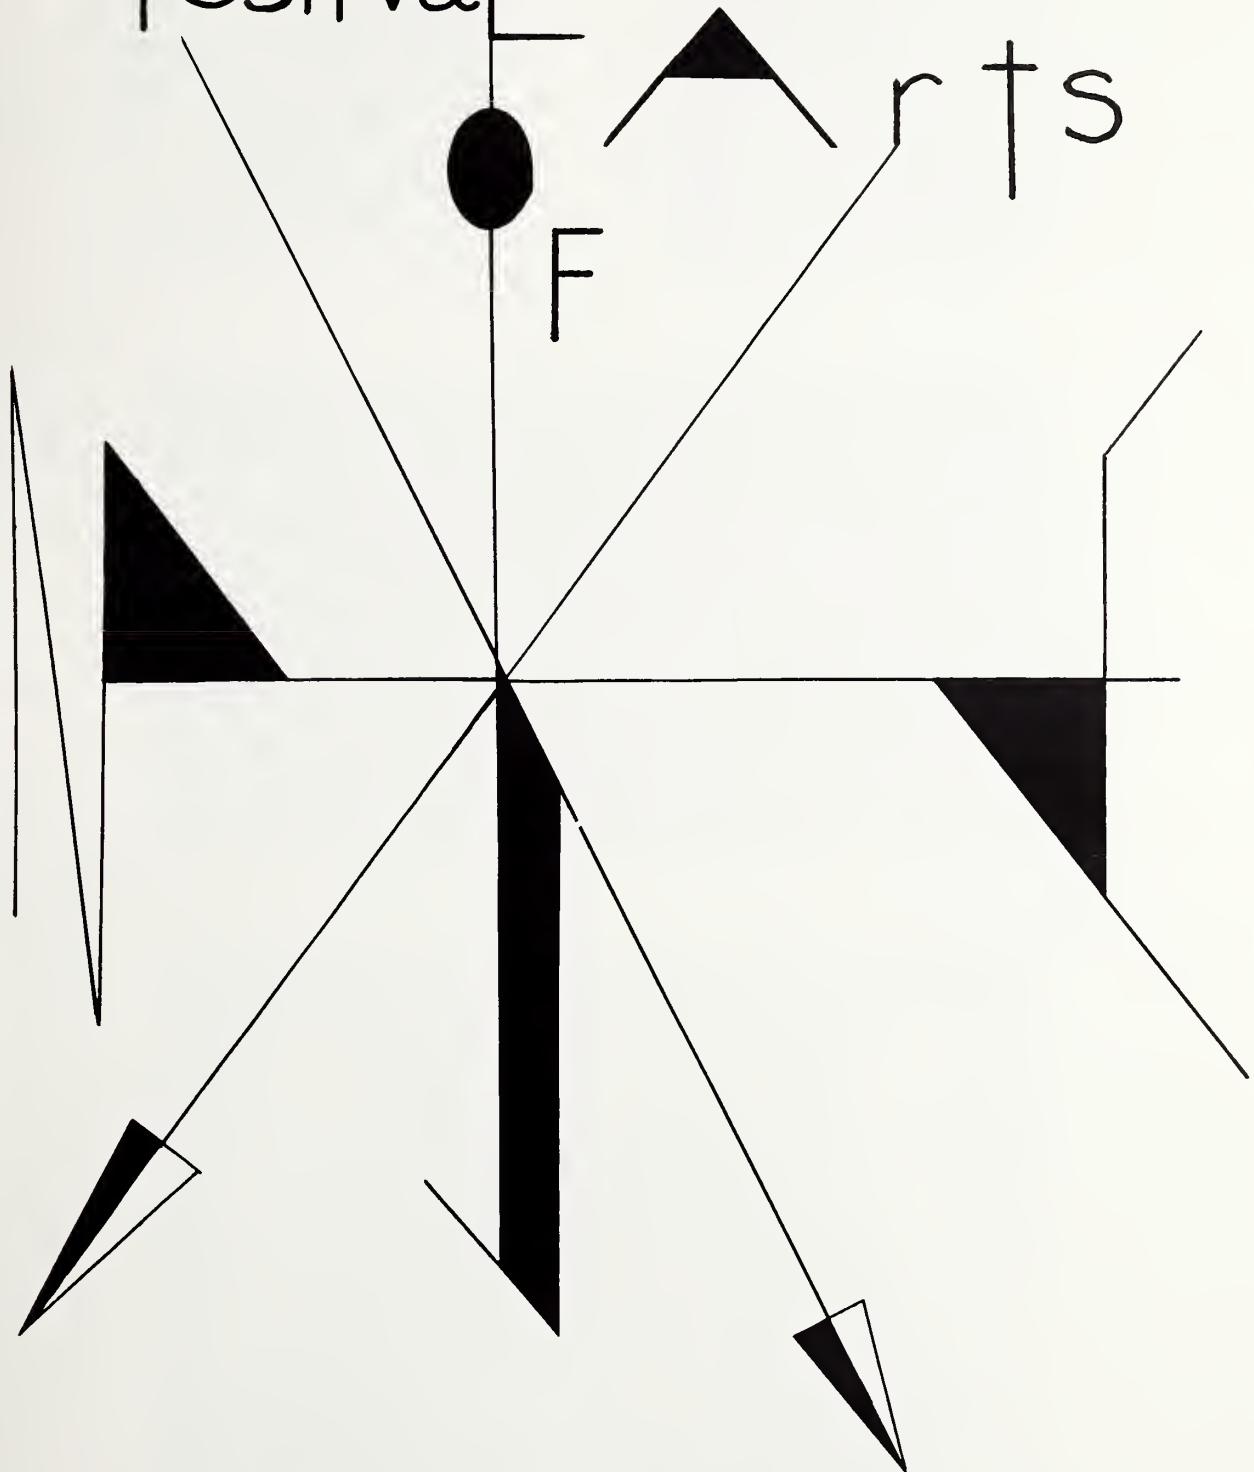

The new student assembly, conducted by the freshman and sophomore classes, was held on February 18. At this assembly the new students became acquainted with the rules and regulations of college life, and were introduced to the various clubs and activities on campus.

MIXERS

Festival Arts

The Festival of Arts is a series of programs organized by the humanities department. It gives us the opportunity to see and hear performances that will enrich us culturally.

Mr. Louis Untermeyer opened the Festival on March 2, with a lecture on Robert Frost entitled, "Robert Frost—A Backward Look." On March 16, Dr. Troyer moderated a panel on fine arts. Mr. Cousins, Mrs. Duffy, Mrs. Joboul, Dr. Kidder and Mr. Ruff discussed the topic, "Why Participate in the Fine Arts?" On March 26 and 27, the Drama Club presented "The Days and Nights of Beebee Fenstermaker," a three act play by William Snyder. An oratorio, THE SEASONS, by Joseph Haydn, was performed by the combined choirs of the college choir, the Methodist church Chancel Choir and the Bahai Temple A cappella Choir. On April 6, the Chicago Symphony String Quartet appeared in an assembly. An art exhibit was on display throughout the Festival showing the work of faculty members from Barat College, Lake Forest College, Northwestern University and National College.

WHO'S WHO

This year the class of 1965 will have the names of nine of its members listed in WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES. This group was chosen on the basis of their participation in academic and extra-curricular activities.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Each year, awards of recognition are presented to well-qualified upperclassmen. Excellence in scholarship, character, and teaching ability are the qualifications needed for high ranking juniors to qualify for four honorary scholarships awarded for the senior year. This year:

The Elizabeth Harrison Scholarship went to:

Linda Fisher

The Edna Dean Baker Scholarship went to:

Lutita Tavai

The Crown Zellarback Foundation Scholarship went to:

Linda Fisher

The Eva Grace Long Scholarship went to:

DAISY CHAIN

There is a "doorway to the future" which the sophomores hold open for the seniors who are about to graduate. Daisy Chain consists of the sophomores, who are dressed in white and who carry a daisy chain which symbolizes the unity and spirit of National. As a finale the classes sing farewell songs to each other. The program is climaxed by the tossing of the sophomores' garlands for the seniors to treasure as remembrances of their alma mater.

Rosen—of course!

I'm becoming sensitized to Handel's "Water Music."

Welcome to college,
Penelope.

Listen, sister, no one says that and gets away with it.

She walks, she talks . . .

Nothing like a good old-fashioned mug and brush.

Hey, you guys, my diet's over!

Do you think the phone company will take a phony check?

You say my halo's slipping?

She ain't no Mona Lisa, but a post office original.

. . . and at Santa Anita in the fourth . . .

May I help you, little girl?

After July 24, no more rollers or crackers in bed.

And we didn't even have room check!

T G I F!

So really I'm a fifth semester freshman?

Wha-at?

I'm not deranged—you are.

What d'ya mean, "He loves me; he loves me not?" Listen, Davies, these cost money!

An remember, dear, you don't have to stay out until 2:00 A.M.

There is a Santa Claus—the Easter Bunny told me.

To our mixer?

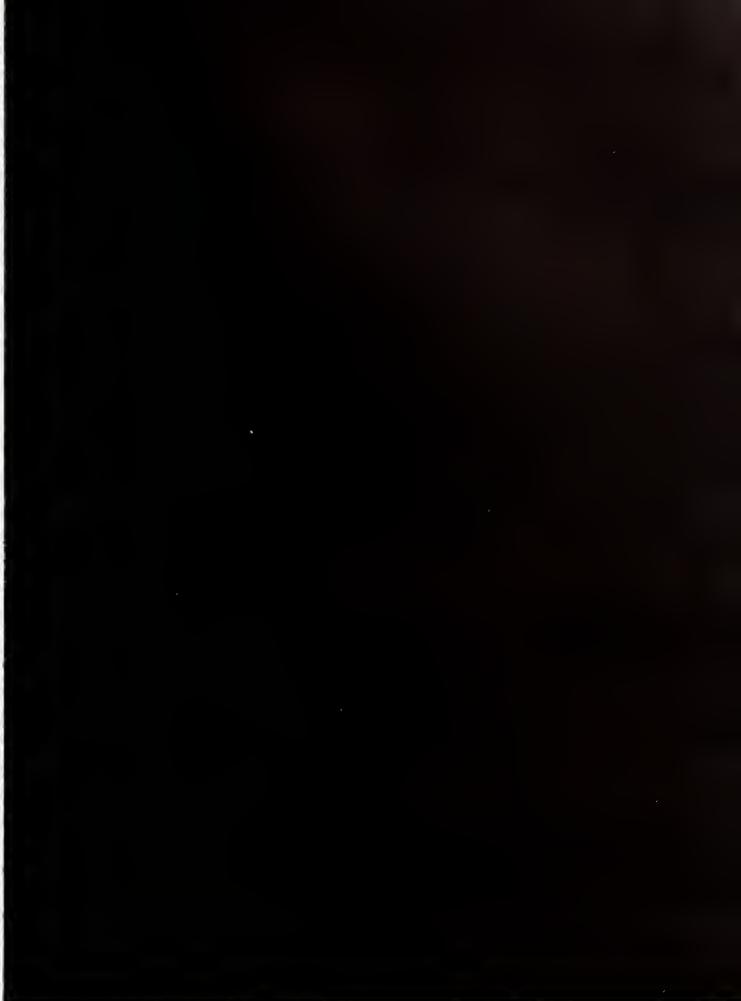

The next guy to get his coat is mine!

This is the class that-- auctioned off the faculty, ran an expresso, loved "Moon River," sold candy mints and ate the profits, threw tiaras from the balcony on graduation day, "made it their very own," liked taffy apples, went Mad over Madras, was the Motley Crew, confused Dr. English and Dr. Kidder, graduated, and no longer grace the halls of National College.

Good Luck to the class with the

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

A sincere "Thank you" to the following:

Mrs. Pauline Galvarro, our sponsor, whose interest and assistance proved invaluable as we put this yearbook together.

Mr. Joseph Vogel and Mr. Donner Kepler, our representatives from Paragon Press, who explained to us the procedure for putting out a yearbook, and who were always on hand to answer any and all questions.

Mr. Solomon Zeloof of Zeloof-Stuart Photographers, who photographed the clubs, Classes, and the seniors. The results show the time, effort and skill that went into them.

The entire yearbook staff, for their wonderful cooperation while working with the editors.
